

I strongly oppose increasing the number radio/television/other media outlets one can own. We need MANY different voices in the media representing the MANY different views of Americans, not just a few!